FOREWORD

Graduating seniors will always face a crisis. Our class faces not one, but many. Political, economic, racial, and religious problems confront us as well as the outstanding achievements of other nations. We realize that we must accept an even increasing responsibility — our country must continue to occupy its prominent position in the world.

To do this, a greater effort must be made to advance our social, scientific, and educational standards.

Our years of training at Arlington High School have given us a strong base from which we can, and will, attain this goal.

DEDICATION

First Row: Mary F. Barry, Ellen B. Fitzpatrick, Director; E. Christine Norwood. Second Row: Bruce S. Gordon, Margaret A. Downey, Secretary.

As we pupils look back on our past three years in Arlington High School, we realize the great influence the Guidance Department has had on us as we laid the foundations for realizing our personal ambitions. No person or organization has ever deserved recognition in our school more than our guidance counselors.

Whether we required assistance in our vocational or scholastic development, none of us was ever denied the required advice. Some of us will remember that the Guidance Department secured for us our first jobs; others, the assistance offered for our college preparations. On every problem confronting us, the counselors offered wise and understanding advice.

Therefore we the Graduating Class of 1958 in order to express our gratitude and sincere appreciation, dedicate this Yearbook to the Arlington High School Guidance Department.

IN MEMORIAM

TRATION

The Class of 1958 is leaving Arlington High School with a record of which they may be justly proud. The three years of academic accomplishment and extra curricular activities, in which the members of the Class have acquitted themselves so well, leave many pleasant memories. It is my earnest hope that each will find the happiness of doing the thing he likes best for his life work, and that the future will afford many moments of personal satisfaction in the attainment of desired goals.

Class History

An anxious, excited throng gathered outside the Lowe Auditorium on September 8, 1955,—a throng that would, in a few short years, comprise the graduating class of 1958. Our apprehensions were soon allayed by the reassuring greeting of Mr. Downs to us as we started our high school career.

Our sophomore year was filled with memorable events. The football team consummated a successful season by trouncing Melrose at the annual Thanksgiving game. We were fortunate in having a charming Turkish girl as our first exchange student. Funds were raised for a future student during Student Council Week. The Dramatic Club kept us in suspense during a memorable evening with a spine-tingling performance of "The Ghost Train."

During the spring, the Gilbert and Sullivan Club delighted us with the fanciful and ever-popular "Babes in Toyland." Soon afterward, pupils were cramming and burning the midnight oil in preparation for final exams.

Magically, all of us survived and headed our separate ways for the summer vacation.

Yes, our carefree summer days were over. Suddenly, almost without warning, we assumed the routine of a day's work; but with high hopes we set about our tasks.

Soon, the football season was in full swing, climaxed by the traditional Thanksgiving Day game between Arlington and Melrose. We "brought home the goal posts", as a reminder of our 47-7 victory.

A few weeks later, the Dramatic Club's presentation "Father Knows Best" was received with warm-hearted laughter. Christmas was in sight, and the music of our annual assemblies spread joy and goodwill to every heart.

A future Modiste

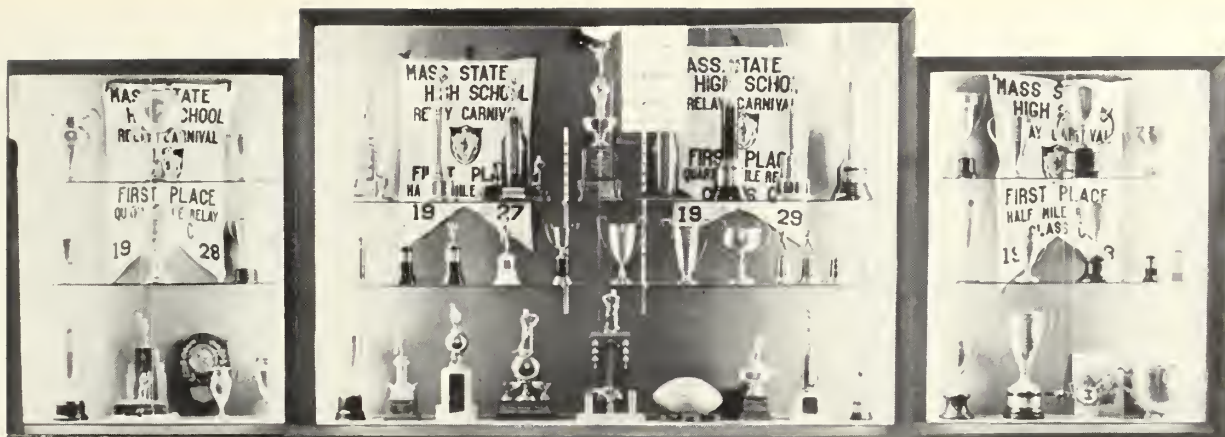

Who knows the Date?

Doesn't anybody Understand?

With January came the election of our Junior Class officers. Soon afterward, the Gilbert and Sullivan Club presented "The Fortune Teller" which was immensely enjoyed by all.

Then came the Junior Prom with its assurance of a wonderful time for all. Following this were the Scholastic Aptitude Tests. A great sigh of relief was heard, and there was always the consolation that we would have another chance. As June rolled around and we displayed our class rings, there was a slight note of sadness in the air for the time of our departure was near. We were through for another year, and the thoughts of our summer's activities filled our minds.

After the summer, we eagerly looked forward to our last and most memorable year at A. H. S. Renovations in the school necessitated a few half days of school in September, and our foreign exchange student from Germany arrived to share the year with us. Thanksgiving came, bringing the annual football party which celebrated another victory over Melrose. The Dramatic Club kept us "in stitches" with its production of "The Family Nobody Wanted," and a few weeks later the impressive Christmas assembly was the perfect beginning for our vacation. Shortly after returning to school in January, we took the Scholastic Aptitude Tests for the last time only to be confronted later by the Achievement Tests. In the Spring, the characters of the Prince of Pilsen cavorted before us as the Gilbert and Sullivan Club presented its annual operetta.

We had been told that the senior year would be over before we knew it; and, as we prepared with breathless excitement and apprehension for the Senior Prom, we realized this to be true. The magic night passed all too quickly. Days passed swiftly till Class Day and Graduation ushered in the ending of our most memorable high school year.

Right over there!

Here's your lunch.

Way up to 38, slave.

Vocational History

As we look back over the past three years, there are many things which will remind us of the days we spent at Arlington Vocational High School. Our sophomore year of shop training consisted of getting acquainted with the special tools and instruments of our trade.

The radio boys started out by building simple electronic circuits.

The machine boys performed elementary operation on the different machines of the trade.

The automotive boys learned the fundamentals of good car maintenance and worked on engines mounted on stands.

In our junior year our shop training was a little more intensive.

The machine shop boys were instructed on many machine operations.

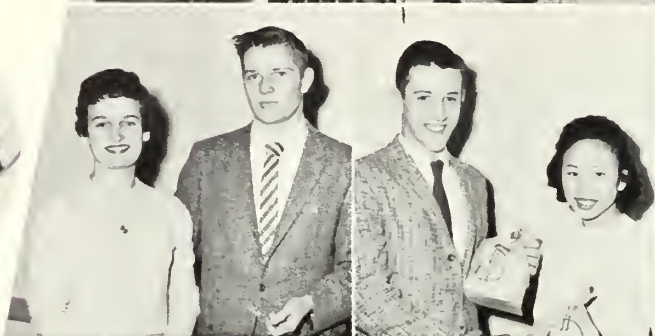

The radio boys were able to repair any type of radio. They also went into the shop theory of televisions.

The automotive juniors worked on customers cars and became proficient in the servicing of them. Working with the seniors they performed all the jobs required in the trade.

Some of the more advanced students were able to go out on the co-operative plan, which consists of going to school class week and out in the trade shop week. During the three years we took trips to such places as the Navy Yard, General Motors and the Electronic development center at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Now that we have completed our training in our respective trades, we are prepared to go out into industry and perform the jobs required in our particular trade.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Again this year, as it has been in the past, Student Council was faced with the problem of raising the necessary funds to support a foreign student in 1959. Along with the established and traditional methods of raising money the Student Council attempted some original ideas which we hope shall set a precedent for years to come.

Once again we held Student Council week, with its traditional "Tag Days" which proved a financial success. We also sold banners, pins, and book covers which added a sizeable amount to our fund.

Perhaps the most significant event on the Student Council calendar was the Sadie Hawkins Dance. All who attended had a wonderful time and we hope that future Student Council Members will realize the success of such a venture and put it into effect.

Although basketball games and dances have been held by the High School before, this year marked the first year it was held to benefit the Exchange Student Fund.

Student Council also held a cake and cookie sale at Sears Roebuck which proved highly successful due to the co-operation of the student body whose donations made the whole thing possible. Without the co-operation of the student body none of the Student Council activities would have been possible.

We also received many generous and greatly appreciated donations from Civic-minded individuals and organizations throughout the town.

Because of the wonderful co-operation from the entire student body we were able to meet our goal and Arlington High School will again next year have a foreign Exchange Student in the Senior Class.

YEARBOOK STAFF

The members of the Yearbook committee have tried to express the feelings, opinions, and hopes of the Class of 1958. The group hopes that the book itself will be a joyful reminder of the High School years.

Deadlines met, photography perfect in every way, correct literary style—all of these were expected. Channeled through Miss Binnig, the adviser, the inspirations and ideas slowly assumed form. The big decisions came first. Would the theme appeal to everyone? Should the cover be modern or standard? Equally important, the lesser decisions were also perplexing, but eventually, the problems unraveled and the book came into being.

Many people have shared in the book's creation, Mr. Eaton and his business staff, Miss Manning, Mr. Robinson, and the senior typewriting class. Each one had a necessary and important job to do. The result is in your hands.

Debating

The aim of the Debating Club is to develop in its members the abilities to think logically, speak clearly and to participate in forums within the rules of Parliamentary Procedure.

In order to further these aims each member must participate in at least two debates and act as chairman as well as critic of a debate.

The club hopes to engage in formal debates with neighboring schools, and to hold oratorical contests. It has taken an active part in the Model Congress which takes place each year at the American International College in Springfield, Massachusetts.

The members thank Mr. Downs, our Principal, for his co-operation and the interest he has shown in the club's activities.

DRAMATIC CLUB

President, Joan Woods; Vice-President, Janet Dale; Secretary, Janice McCoubrey; Treasurer, Joan Wyman.

The eighty members of this organization have had a successful year in their efforts to promote the Drama in Arlington High School.

The enthusiasm and cooperation of the members coupled with the able guidance of Mrs. Sampson, the faculty advisor, resulted in two well-received public presentations. The first, The Family Nobody Wanted by Christopher Sergel, a warm-hearted comedy, was presented at the Junior High East on December sixth and seventh. This is the first year that a play has run for two nights. Our contribution to the Massachusetts Drama Festival in March at Marblehead, Mass. was Trifles by Susan Glaspell.

The cast, Sue Thompson, Anthony Tiberii, Richard Martin, Joan Woods, Bob Cappello, David Blackmon, Marilyn McLaughlin, Janice Moore, Kevin Murray, and others, the various committees, publicity, tickets, and property, and the fine direction of Mrs. Sampson all combined to produce these two successes.

The Dramatic Club's productions and its other activities during the past year have made participation a valuable as well as an enjoyable experience.

Arlington High School's newspaper, the Chronicle, consisting of eight papers and costing fifteen cents per copy, is published monthly from October through May. Mr. John Sampson acts as the faculty advisor and the able guide of the entire staff.

The paper's yearly activities are climaxed at the Chronicle Banquet, at which time the identity of Aunt Minerva is revealed, and the new staff is introduced.

CHESS

First Row: P. Samsury, D. Avery, H. Larsen, E. Rockwood. Second Row: W. Reid, John R. Sampson, Director; R. Sakackewy, C. Reingold, K. Heffler.

The Chess Club is an informal group which meets every Friday at the close of school in room 5. There are no officers; there are no requirements; all that is needed is a wish to play chess.

The club does enter a ten-man team in the Greater Boston Interscholastic League. Here they play two games with each of the other teams from schools; such as, Cambridge Latin or Boston Latin.

We try to teach those who want to learn how to play the game. We also try to improve the games of those who already know how to play.

Of all the things that have happened, we shall probably remember for the longest time, the trips to other schools in Mr. Sampson's car.

Orchestra

"Dancing in the Dark" or "When You Wish upon a Star" were two of the many and varied musical numbers you might have heard if you had happened to pass room 75 on either Monday or Thursday afternoons while the orchestra was busily rehearsing for one of its many concerts or assemblies under Mr. Einzig's friendly and understanding direction.

Among the best concerts given during this past year, the orchestra was excellent in the Annual Christmas assembly, in the highly spectacular production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Prince of Pilsen," and last but by no means least, in the traditional concert performed with the talents of the Winchester High School Orchestra.

We all hope that next year, the Arlington High School orchestra will have as much pleasure participating in the various events as we have during this past year.

Band

The main function of the Arlington High School Band is to provide entertainment at the various football games and rallies at which vigorous school spirit is displayed. Under the able leadership of Mr. Hermance, the band has spent many hours practicing new musical arrangements and marching drills. At every football game, whether the day was bright or gloomy, the band could always be counted on to play the strains of the "Red and Gray." They did a wonderful job and Arlington High is proud of them.

AT ARLINGTON HIGH

Girls' Choir

The Girls' Choir, organized in 1956, is made up of junior and senior girls who have been in the Girls' Choir for one year. During the school year of 1956-1957, activities including entertaining Natick High as part of an exchange program, and singing for the Women's Club, Baccalaureate, and graduation.

During this year of 1957-1958, the Girls' Choir has sung in Melrose in an exchange concert, and again for the Women's Club, for Baccalaureate, and for graduation.

As always, the girls of this club have given their full support to the various musical programs presented at Arlington High throughout the school year.

Gilbert and Sullivan

"Music Makes The World Go Round" is a phrase familiar to many. The Gilbert and Sullivan Club certainly supports this theory in their presentations. Each year an operetta is performed in the spring. As the name implies, the productions have been those written by Gilbert and Sullivan, but in the past three years, the club, as a change, has presented productions of Victor Herbert and Gustav Luder.

"Babes In Toyland", presented in 1956, proved to be highly enjoyable. An unforgettable show was the "Fortune Teller," given in 1957, with its band of gypsies and royal ballet. The 1958 contribution of the organization was "The Prince of Pilsen" which delighted everyone with its charm and story.

Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club meets once a week during the school year. On Mondays at the close of school, the members of this organization hurry to Room 75 where Mr. Einzig eagerly awaits their arrival.

During our sophomore year they sang during the United Nations Program, at a meeting of the Women's Club, and in Melrose High to which they made a trip for an exchange concert. During their junior and senior years, they participated in programs at both junior high schools and in various high school assemblies.

All in all, the group has had three very worthwhile years and the members hope that the clubs in future years profit as much as they did by participating in all the activities of the Girls' Glee Club.

Three Queens

The Queens, a trio from the Girls' Choir, is a group that is one of this year's additions to the Music Department. This group has participated in school functions and made numerous appearances for various organizations in the town.

Boys' Glee Club

One of Arlington High School's most harmonious groups is the Boys' Glee Club. Musically and socially, the boys have a wonderful time. The club is composed of approximately twenty boys who meet every Friday morning under the excellent leadership of Mr. Einzig. They sing many beautiful ballads, Christmas Carols, and semi-classical selections. The club, however, does not always sing alone. Most of the members are also in the Gilbert and Sullivan Club. They also provide entertainment at school assemblies.

Few organizations offer a better opportunity for boys to get together and sing.

Harmonettes

"Say it with Music" is the motto and creed of the Harmonettes. This group of six girls was founded four years ago by Mr. Einzig, the organization's director. Try-outs are held each spring for those girls interested in joining the group.

During the past three years, the busy schedule followed by the girls has included exchange concerts with the neighboring towns of Natick, Melrose, and Winchester; participation in school assemblies; and entertaining local women's clubs as well as other organizations.

ART CLUB

The art club is an organization of students who share an avid interest in art. Its purposes are many and varied, but it was formed primarily to make available extra time for those students who show a particular interest in the subject and for those students who are unable to elect it as a course because of a heavy schedule. The club enables them to enjoy art activities.

Meetings are held bi-monthly on Tuesday afternoons during the seventh period. The meetings this year included guest speakers from Art schools who outlined the course of studies at their respective schools, demonstrations on silk screen printing techniques, and a demonstration on flower arranging by Mr. Scott of Scott's Nurseries.

The functions of the club this year included the designing and building of the stage scenery for the annual Dramatic Club production, designing posters to advertise and promote school functions and school publications. Posters were done for the Chronicle, Book Week, the Dramatic Club play, Tag Days, school dances, and sports. Committees were formed to handle the layout and design of the Year book and the design of the cover of the School Handbook. Social activities included field trips to museums and an evening at the Ice Follies of 1958 and the "Pops".

LATIN CLUB

MOTTO — VIAM VENIEMUS AUT FACIEMUS

When the charter members of the Latin Club founded the group, they chose as their title "Tredecim Fortunati." Why did they select "Fortunati?" They felt that they were fortunate in having this opportunity to learn more about the people, the places, the customs, and the language which form the foundation of our own civilization. This has continued to be the general objective of the organization. The implementation of the purpose varies with each group according to their particular interests: art, architecture, literature may be stressed.

The members are the pupils of the Latin IV class, and the officers have Latin titles. The monthly meetings are devoted to the topics which are either planned as a unit for the year or suggested by discussion at each meeting. The latter, resulting in a miscellaneous program, has been followed this year. The regular meetings are supplemented by museum and library visits or by outside speakers. Joint meetings are also held with Latin Clubs from other schools.

The year is climaxed by a "Roman Banquet" which contributes, in a material way as well as intellectual way, to the knowledge and enjoyment of the members.

To be helpful to the librarian, to fellow students, and to themselves is the purpose of the Library Corps. The thirty-six boys and girls who make up this organization first learn to use the library themselves, and then they help others. By doing the routine tasks of the library, they leave the librarian free to do more important services for students and teachers.

All is not work, however. With a taffy-apple sale in October, a book exhibit in November, and a Christmas party in December, each member has a chance to join in the fun. The candy sale on St. Valentine's Day is an annual event, the proceeds of which are used to benefit the library. At the end of the year, there is an outing with the Read, View, and Talk Club.

The Library Corps tries to make the library a place in which information and pleasure combine in a suitable atmosphere for acquiring knowledge.

R.V.T.

The Read, View, and Talk Club, which was first organized in 1952 under the name of Book Reviewers, is an informal club that meets on every other Tuesday afternoon during the school. Miss Richmond, the high school librarian, and Mrs. McQuaid, the young people's librarian at Robbins Library, act as the advisors.

This year for the first time officers were elected. R. Cappello was chosen to be president and L.

Gould, secretary. As in the past there is a different rotating chairman for each meeting. This gives every member the opportunity to take charge of the program for at least one meeting during the year.

The meetings are planned so that they include book reviews, panel discussions, and films. During the holiday season, special programs are planned, such as the annual Christmas party.

DRIVER EDUCATION

The Driver Education program offered at the Arlington High School consists of two distinct parts — Classroom instruction, called Driver Education, and the second part, Driver Training, involves the actual operation of the motor car.

The ultimate aim in the course is to develop in our youth, skills, understandings, and proper attitudes necessary for the safe operation of motor vehicles on our public highways.

The objectives to be obtained are as follows:

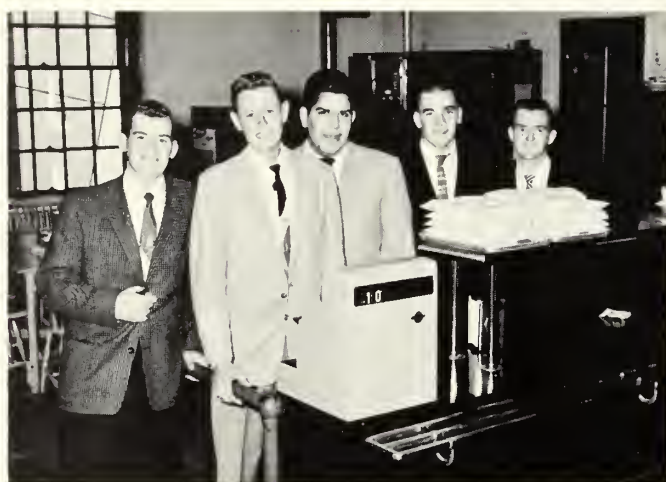

1. To develop skillful and safe drivers.
2. To acquaint our youth with the mechanical functions, method of operation and maintenance of motor vehicles.
3. To stimulate constructive attitudes and sound habits on the road.
4. To effect a reduction in motor vehicle accidents by promoting responsible attitudes among drivers.
5. To develop a respect for and an understanding of national, state, and local traffic laws, rules and regulations.

GOLF

Once again the fairways beckon to the golfers of Arlington High School, and the 1958 golf season is on its way.

In the Central Division of the Greater Boston Interscholastic Golf League, A. H. S. golfers strive for top honors when they oppose Concord, Cambridge High and Latin, Lexington, and Rindge Technical. They meet each opponent twice: once at home at the Winchester Country Club and once away.

In 1958 the A. H. S. golfers hope to better their second place position of the past two years. It will be a challenge in this well balanced league. The almost all-veteran Arlington team, under the guidance of Coach George Lowder, is eagerly anticipating the matches with Concord High, who were first place winners for the last two consecutive years. The golfers hope to move up to the top position.

FIELD HOCKEY

This year's field hockey team performed successfully despite the fact that all but three of last year's starting line-up had graduated, including their only experienced goalie.

The team went through the season winning game after game, and then suffered a heart-breaking defeat against their rival Winchester.

Under the guidance of their able coach Mrs. Fiorenza, the girls scored seven goals while their opposition scored only four.

MAJORETTES

Also deserving applause for a job well done are the Arlington High School Drum Majorettes, who with their maroon and white uniforms have done much to create a picturesque setting at the football games. After many hours of practice, the majorettes under the leadership of Peggy Angelou have performed excellently in all types of weather. Any Arlington High School student can be proud to claim these talented majorettes as the leaders of their band.

CHEERLEADERS

Under the capable leadership of Co-captains, "Lorraine Smith" and "Georgia Orphanos", the Arlington High School cheering squad has been tremendously effective in boosting student morale and keeping up school spirit throughout the entire school year.

Despite their energetic participation in many other school activities, these girls prove their loyalty to the school's teams by leading cheers at football, basketball, and hockey games.

They spent hours of tiring practice each week to reach perfection. They planned and promoted a very successful Thanksgiving rally.

For an inspiring year of echoing cheers—Congratulations to each cheerleader.

The Girls' Athletic Association is an organization for the purpose of promoting better school spirit, better support for girl athletics, more inter-class competition in minor sports and individual games, as well as sponsoring social and co-ed recreational activities.

The activities suggested for this year are: ice skating, roller skating, swimming, horseback riding, and a co-ed play day as well as the usual varsity sports, field hockey, basketball, tennis, and softball. The intramural activities are: bowling, badminton, volley ball, and modern dance.

Points are given for participation in each activity sponsored by the Physical Education Department. Girls' Athletic Association emblems are awarded to the highest point winners.

GIRLS' TENNIS

One of the most promising but least publicized sports at Arlington High is Tennis. Practice begins in the fall on the Spy Pond Courts and with the coming of winter the team retires indoors and the gym becomes its courts. In the spring the squad is chosen and tournaments with other schools begin.

This year Arlington High School had a young and promising team with only two veterans, Captain Nancy Corish and Jean Egan returning, and the remaining team, Sophomores. This season was quite successful, winning 2 games, tying 1, and losing 2. The future outlook for Tennis at A.H.S. is good, for this young team has terrific spirit and determination.

SOFTBALL

The girls' Softball team this year started off with a bang, beating Concord 42 to 5. This was a preview of other high scores to come. The girls worked hard for their coach, Mrs. Christine Fiorenza and Captain Patricia Paynter, and made a good showing—losing only 2 games.

In spite of postponements due to rainy weather they kept up their spirits.

BASEBALL

The Arlington High Baseball team during the recently completed 1958 Suburban League competition compiled a 6-8 slate.

However, this record does not demonstrate the hard work, determination and fighting spirit of the team and coach, Mr. James Cavalieri. This spirit showed itself in the many scintillating games, both victories and defeats, to which the Red & Gray fans were treated during the season.

This spirit exemplified itself when the Red & Gray nine fought from behind three times to topple a stubborn Waltham nine 10 to 9 in ten innings. Arlington also held the championship Newton High team to only two runs, a feat which no other team accomplished.

TOUCHDOWN CLUB

This club, founded in 1944, is made up of a group of citizens in the community who are interested in helping the youth of Arlington.

At the annual May meeting the Club entertains the students of A.H.S. at a banquet who are on the athletic squads, or who play any role in the athletic picture, such as the band, cheerleaders, etc.

The highlight of this occasion is the Frederick V. Ostergren Memorial Award, a Lord and Lady Elgin Watch, given each year to the two outstanding athletes of the senior class. The winners of 1958 were Judith Lee Meyer and Sean E. Tierney.

MODERN DANCE

Modern Dance is composed of sophomore, junior, and senior girls who enjoy working together on creative dance patterns. On Wednesday afternoons they meet for forty-five minutes for the purpose of developing grace and poise through various exercises. Those girls interested in perfecting their skills, stay for an additional instruction period, under the capable guidance of Miss Nancy Anderson, who teaches the essential rhythm steps.

The girls find this club one of the most satisfying groups in which to participate and eagerly urge prospective members to join.

Next year we hope the team will keep up the good work.
